

EXPLAIN COURSES TO REGISTRANTS IN MILL GLASSES

Instructors Will Tell Prospective Students About Season's Work

Late registration and discussion of the courses offered in the pulp and paper department of Appleton Vocational school will be held from 7 to 9 o'clock Wednesday evening at the vocational school. H. G. Noves, state director of pulp and paper classes, and Arthur Bonfield, instructor in the department, will outline the courses. The pulp and paper department is offering a series of courses for workers in the industry. The fall schedule consists of the following courses: Power and power transmission, Monday under the instruction of Mr. Zimmmerman; elementary chemistry, Tuesday under Mr. Bonfield; pumps, Wednesday, no instructor yet assigned; sizing, fillers, filling and loading, Wednesday, under Mr. Bonfield; advanced chemistry (organic), Thursday, under Mr. Beutner; solvents, pigments, and coloring processes, Friday, under Mr. Hill or Mr. Gardner; characteristics and sources of pulp wood, Friday, under Mr. Quill.

The course in power and power transmission deals with the mechanical transmission of steam, electricity, and water power from the prime mover to the individual machines used in pulp and paper mills. Shafes, journals, bearings, hangers, pedestals, couplings, keys, couplings, pulleys, sprockets, gears and belts are some of the topics studied in this series of lessons.

The course in pumps deals with the types of pumps found in pulp and paper mills. These are divided into three classes: hand pumps—including suction, lift, and force pumps—power pumps that are directly connected to a prime mover, called direct-acting pumps; power pumps driven by belts and electric motors.

The elementary chemistry course is designed to acquaint the mill operative with the chemical processes in the pulp and paper industry. The course in chemistry deals with the scientific laws and principles underlying the manufacture of pulp and paper. The advanced course is offered to men who have had one year of general chemistry and who wish to study the composition and reaction of the organic compounds of which the material consists. The more important industrial reactions will be studied in the course.

The instruction in sizing, filling and loading will treat of the raw materials used for these processes, their preparation, and use with various kinds of paper. The course in colors, pigments, and coloring will familiarize the student with the various dyes used in the coloring of paper.

Characteristics and sources of pulp wood is designed for operatives in mills where wood pulp is the main product. The kind of wood used in the manufacture of mechanical, sulphite, sulphate, and soda pulp and offers the worker a knowledge of pulpwoods without a prolonged study of the subject.

START SELLING TICKETS FOR CARLETON GAME

Tickets for the first home game of the Lawrence college football team, Saturday afternoon at Whitling field, were placed on sale at Basings Sport shop on E. College-ave Wednesday, according to Fred Trezka, college faculty athletic manager. Lawrence plays Carleton, 1925 champion of the Midwest conference, in a conference game.

AUTOMOBILE DAMAGED IN STREET CORNER CRASH

Two cars were slightly damaged in an accident at the corner of W. College-ave and Walnut-st at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Alvin Maaske, 1, M. C. A., was driving his machine east on College-ave and turned to go south on Walnut-st when he collided with a machine owned by Ruelen. Brubel and driven by Irvin Burdick. Maaske's front wheel was broken off the Burdick machine and the front fenders were damaged. The Maaske car was not damaged.

CHARGE MOTORIST DID NOT TRANSFER LICENSE

Richard Moder, route 4, Clintonville, was arrested by Gus Rosenkorn, motorcycle officer, at 7 o'clock Tuesday evening on a charge of driving an automobile without transferring the license. Moder is to appear before Judge Theodore Berg in municipal court Thursday.

POLICEMAN HURT IN FIGHT WITH BANDITS BACK ON JOB

Officer Lester Van Roy, who has been on duty with injuries received in a fight with two men suspected of having robbed the L. L. Alsted restaurant, 725 E. South-st, about a month ago, resumed work Wednesday morning. Van Roy suffered several fractures and was unable to work for the last month.

The fight occurred on a freight train over the Fox river after two men had climbed over a fence in the rear of the Alsted residence to recover the cache of liquor which Van Roy was guarding. The marauders failed to stop when ordered to do so by Van Roy and he gave chase. He caught the men and started to wrestle with them. He knocked one in the river and the other escaped over the bridge. Neither of the men was captured.

125 GIRLS SPEND PART OF VACATION AT ONAWAY CAMP

Womans Camp Sponsors Interesting Vacation Place for Young Women

A total of 125 girls spent part of their vacations during the summer at Camp Onaway, conducted by Appleton Vocational club. Camp Onaway is located on Onaway island in the Waubesa chain of lakes and offers excellent opportunities for shallow and deep water swimming and boating. The camp itself is self-sustaining with the exception of the directors. The aim of the camp is to afford the girls of Appleton a place where activity is directed and supervised, and where they may spend their vacation most profitably.

The cost to the individual girl is small amounting to about 56 and transportation. Girl Scouts raise enough money every year to enable each member to spend at least one week at Camp Onaway.

Every day a regular procedure is followed and work is under the direction and guidance of special counselors and supervisors. At 6:45 the camp turns out for the morning "dip" after which breakfast is served in the mess hall. Camp duties are then executed after which there is inspection of duties and tents.

And then came classes. But they were not like classes in the real sense of the word, for they consisted of play and work combined. The camp nurse, Miss Blumelien, taught the girls the fundamentals of First Aid. Nature-studies, conducted by Miss Morton, Miss Stickland, dramatic director of Appleton Womans club, taught a class in dramatics. Several plays were given during the two weeks such as "Fading the Baby Moses" presented on the first Sunday and "Ruth and Naomi" on Visitor's Sunday. A delightful pageant was produced for the Fourth of July. A class in handcraft was conducted by Miss Renning.

After classes came swimming. Girls who did not know how to swim were given instruction in fundamentals; girls who could swim learned more and were allowed to swim on the deep water side; others learned to dive and to use new strokes. Learned swimmers gave instruction in Junior Life Saving.

An assembly announcements were given. Pine Murmurings, the official camp paper, was read; and camp songs were sung. Then came mail and dinner. The canteen where the girls could buy candy, stamps, and other needed articles was open immediately after dinner. Rest hour was then observed before afternoon classes began. Recreation and activities of all kinds took up the remainder of the afternoon. With darkness came the camp fire and "stunts." Then taps.

Visitor's Sunday showed what the girls really were doing. The usual program was adhered to as strictly as possible to demonstrate the life of the camp.

PAVING INSPECTED BY COMMON COUNCIL

Members of the common council and of the board of public works met Tuesday afternoon as a committee of the whole and inspected seven paving jobs in the city that were completed during the summer. All of the jobs were accepted. Jackman-st is the last of the streets to be paved and contractors expect to finish laying bricks Wednesday afternoon if the weather continues favorable.

The jobs accepted by the council were: E. College-ave, Middle-st, Washington-st, Lawrence-st, Marston-st, Pierce-ave, and Johnson-st.

NO HIGHER FREIGHT RATES IF SHIPPERS KEEP UP THEIR FIGHT

Gettle Tells Rotarians How Freight Tariffs Are Kept from Increasing

Wisconsin manufacturers and shippers will not be forced to pay high freight tariffs which have been determined by the railroad situation in other states and districts, if they will continue their cooperation with the railroad commission and the traffic managers of the state chambers of commerce in presenting the state's side of the case at hearings which are held regularly at designated points in this territory, declared Louis C. Gettle, Madison, chairman of the Wisconsin railroad commission in his address before the weekly luncheon of the Rotary club and traffic men from Appleton mills at Hotel Northern Monday noon.

In opening his talk Mr. Gettle described the boundaries of the western trunk line territory and told his audience that all of the territory was west of the Mississippi river excepting that part of Wisconsin which is north of a line drawn from Milwaukee to points near Madison and Dodgeville and then south into Illinois. Practically all of the state was therefore included in the western trunk territory and subject to western trunk rates.

Objections have been filed in numerous instances to being grouped in this territory by Wisconsin shippers, and it was in order to bring about a change that the state manufacturers have banded together and with reports submitted by the chambers of commerce throughout the state have been able to present a solid front in their case before the interstate commerce commission.

In this connection Mr. Gettle commended Appleton shippers on their cooperation and expressed special thanks for the part R. G. Wort, traffic manager of the Appleton chamber of commerce had taken in the work. Mr. Wort's report for Appleton, was the first one in and one of the most complete cases to be presented to the railroad commission as evidence in the interstate commerce commission hearings.

Because the railroad situation in this state is similar to that in Illinois there has been some movement to have Wisconsin placed in the same classification as that state. However the rates suggested by state manufacturers while higher than those of Illinois are still much lower than the rates suggested by the carriers for this district.

After the rates as proposed by the shippers put into effect the freight bill of Appleton firms would be increased $750,000 the speaker said, Oshkosh $4,000,000, Janesville $500,000, Milwaukee about $6,000,000 and in all the state's freight bills would be increased nearly $40,000,000 a year.

While the rate case has not yet been settled, Mr. Gettle said that it will be brought to a successful close if the aid of the manufacturers is continued and if the chambers of commerce continue their support. In closing the speaker said that freight rates on farm products might also be adjusted if complete information could be obtained on the different products. However, he said, there is no central farm organization in the state from which the railroad commission may get the information. He also stated that attempts which have been made to secure some idea of the situation have resulted in failure because of lack of interest and incompetent reports.

BOY SCOUT OFFICES TO BE OPEN FOR BUSINESS

The boy scout offices, which are temporarily located in the McCann building on College-ave, will be open daily during the usual business hours according to Mijo G. Clark, new executive of the valley council. Mr. Clark is now making plans for the fall scout program and for a scout leaders course to be given in November. A meeting of the new scout executive and the council members will be held sometime in the next few days.

PREPARE REPAIR PLANS FOR POSTOFFICE HERE

Following the visit of a government building inspector at the Appleton post office Tuesday, plans for a number of miscellaneous repairs are being made and bids for the work are being called for by Fred Felix Westengel, acting postmaster. The bids will be received until 2 o'clock the afternoon of Oct. 10.

A few of the repairs recommended were on the floors of the work room, the side walks, stone joints on the building, the roof and several others of a more minor nature. Work will start as soon as possible after the bids are received.

BANKING INSTITUTE'S CONVENTION OCT. 12-13

The tenth annual convention of the Wisconsin State chapter, American Institute of Banking, will be held in the Northland hotel, Green Bay, Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 12 and 13. The institute includes in its membership only bank employees who do not hold an office and congregate them for their work with conferences, courses and annual institutes. None of the employees of the Appleton banks are affiliated with the organization, though several were members a few years ago.

Wisconsin has over 1,000 members. The Deloit chapter has a membership of 63; Green Bay 51, Janesville 54, Kenosha 78, Madison 48, Manitowish-waukegan 43, Oshkosh 39, and Superior 29. The membership roll of the state chapter is made up of men and women in country banks located in places where local chapters are not available or possible. Within the state chapter is also one group study class in Marshfield, with the prospect of more groups this fall in Eau Claire, Fond du Lac, Oshkosh and Wisconsin Rapids.

CAPACITY CROWD AT MISS TALLEY'S DEBUT

Metropolitan Opera House Packed to Doors at Phenom's First Appearance

Mail orders from all parts of the country as far south as Madison and to the north as far as Michigan are coming in daily for tickets to the Marion Talley concert Friday evening at Lawrence Memorial chapel. Miss Talley comes here on her first concert tour.

Amid scenes of indescribable enthusiasm this Kansas City girl, the youngest ever to step on the stage of the Metropolitan Opera house, made her debut as Gilda in "Rigoletto" in February 1926, to a house packed to the doors.

The phenomena of a young girl who had never performed on a stage, and seemingly ever sung with an orchestra, to make her debut at the world's greatest opera house in a leading role is considered the most remarkable feat in musical history. Miss Talley's triumph is spoken of by comparison only with Jenny Lind and Adeline Patli.

Since that memorable night, Miss Talley has steadily progressed in voice and art. At the Metropolitan Opera house she has sung in two seasons, fifty percent in a leading role, over one hundred concerts in cities throughout America, always to capacity houses.

will be received until 2 o'clock the afternoon of Oct. 10.

A few of the repairs recommended were on the floors of the work room, the side walks, stone joints on the building, the roof and several others of a more minor nature. Work will start as soon as possible after the bids are received.

LETTER GOLF

FEELING MEAN TODAY? Here's an easy one if you're in the right mood—MEAN TO GOOD. Par is four blows. The solution is printed on page 7.

M	E	A	N
G	O	O	D

THE RULES
1—The idea of letter golf is to change one word to another and do it in par, a given number of strokes. Thus to change COW TO HEN, in three strokes, COW, HOW, HEW, HEN.
2—You can change only one letter at a time.
3—You must have a complete word, of common usage, for each jump. Slang words and abbreviations don't count.
4—The order of letters cannot be changed.

DAIRY FARMERS WILL STOP HERE THURSDAY

County Agent Arranging for Dinner Which Will Be Final Event of Tour

Dairy farmers of the upper peninsula of Michigan, who are making a 400-mile trip through Wisconsin this week, will end their journey in Appleton Thursday afternoon. The trip started Sunday night at Iron Mountain, Mich., and the group proceeded to Green Bay where they visited a dairy farm operated in conjunction with the county hospital and the Kendall Guernsey farms.

The party spent the night in Green Bay and Tuesday proceeded to Donau where a condensation was inspected. They then went to Manitowish where they remained Tuesday night and Wednesday the group was to travel to Fond du Lac and Oshkosh and then to Appleton. A luncheon at Hotel Northern, arranged by R. A. Amundson, county agricultural agent, will be the final event before the farmers start for home.

Instruction in herd improvement work, presentation of an opportunity to learn cattle judging, and inspection of the most modern methods of barn construction and dairy equipment will be some of the points gained by the men making the trip.

Paul V. Cary, Sr., was an Antigo visitor Wednesday.

SUSPEND SCHEDULE OF RATES ON PAPER

Operation of certain schedules of the Chicago and North Western Railway company tariff, E. B. Byrd's tariff and other tariffs has been suspended from Oct. 1, 1927, to May 3, 1928, according to word received by Roy G. Wort, traffic manager of the chamber of commerce. The suspension order was entered in the investigation and suspension docket, No. 2885, of the Interstate Commerce commission.

The suspended schedules propose changes in rates on paper boards and carloads between points in Western Trunk territory, resulting generally in increases. A few Appleton paper mills already have been hit hard by the order.

FIRE DRILLS HELD IN CITY SCHOOLS; SET NEW RECORDS

All Buildings Emptied in Less Than 2 Minutes; One Cleared in 40 Seconds

All public school pupils in the city, with the exception of those in Richmond school, had fire drills Tuesday morning. The high school and Wilson junior high school buildings were emptied of pupils in two minutes, and all other school buildings were emptied in much less time.

McKinley junior high school was emptied of its 22 students in the record time of 40 seconds. The grammar grades part of the building was emptied of its 135 students in 50 seconds, although one "panic door" was blocked. George J. McGilgan, chief of fire department, ordered the door fixed immediately.

In all schools where pupils used fire escapes, an additional 20 seconds or more was needed to clear the buildings, as the pupils were not yet accustomed to using the escapes. Natural timidity in venturing on an escape with the ground visible far below partly accounted for the slower time. Children went down the fire escapes slower and were more careful than when they used the inside staircase.

ALARM FAILED

Much delay was caused at Roosevelt school when the fire alarm failed to work. After tinkering with it for a minute or two, Chief McGilgan made it work and the building was cleared in 1 minute and 30 seconds at the east end and 1 minute and 40 seconds at the south and west entrances. The 439 students will be able to make much better time in getting out of the building, Chief McGilgan believes, if they will come down the stairs from the second floor two or three abreast instead of single file and if the bicycle racks are removed from near the front entrance of the building.

Recommendation will be made that "panic doors" be installed at each side of the main door at the south entrance of the high school. The high school building was cleared in 1 minute and 45 seconds at the east and west entrances but due to the crush at the front entrance, all of the 542 pupils were not out of the building for a full two minutes after the manual alarm was rung.

A panic door is an ordinary door with a metal bar reaching across, which automatically unlocks the door when pressure is exerted against it from the inside. If there were a panic door at each side of the main entrance and all pupils tried to crowd out of one door, instead of being crushed against a locked door, the first one to reach the door would merely press against the bar and open the door.

BELLS CONNECTED

At Wilson junior high school the gymnasium classes were slow in getting out of the building with the result that the time there was two minutes. Bells in different parts of the school are connected so that when the alarm is turned in, the bells ring in sequence. There are 350 pupils at Wilson junior high school.

Fire escapes delayed emptying the fifth ward school. All building entrances were cleared in 55 seconds, but the fire escapes were not cleared for 1 minute and 35 seconds. The 400 pupils at the school were well drilled, having watched a demonstration of how to use a fire extinguisher that morning.

The 300 pupils at the Third ward school also were commended by Chief McGilgan, as the building was emptied in 50 seconds.

Columbia school in the Sixth ward was emptied of its 250 pupils in 50 seconds, another very good record, Chief McGilgan said.

The 148 pupils in Lincoln school, using only two exits to the building, were all out in 48 seconds.

DELAY ON FIRE ESCAPE

At Franklin school, the 508 pupils were out of the building in 1 minute and 5 seconds. The building proper was cleared in 45 seconds but there was a 20 seconds delay in clearing the fire escape.

The First ward school, once regarded as a fire trap, was cleared of its 425 students in 1 minute and 12 seconds. The students used all five exits and the south door, through which most of the students passed, was cleared in 50 seconds. Several recommendations

Household Service Is Boon To Tired Fathers

At last the tired business men of Appleton will be able to come home after a "hard" day at the office or on the golf links and be reasonably sure that Friend Wife will not bother him with such undignified and imposing requests as "Will you must cut the lawn tonight," or "Jim, this carpet needs pounding," or "Frank, the screens must come off tonight," or "Henry, take this old chair up to the attic."

No more does the Tired Business Man have to worry about coming home to find his favorite chair behind the piano, the parlor rug adorning the front lawn and his smoking stand hidden beneath a deluge of furniture, pictures and drapes, all because the annual housecleaning campaign is under way. Seckin's Household Service, one of the most unique in the city, and probably the only one of its kind in the state or country, undertakes to perform all these menial tasks and thereby remove a great load from the shoulders of overworked Friend Wife and Tired Business Man.

Among other things the service will cut lawns; trim trees; make and plant gardens; put on storm windows or screens; wash windows; sharpen kitchen tools or lawnmowers; mend pots and kettles; shovel snow; make radiator covers; do plain sewing; tend the furnace; clean basements; cut off the ashes; do housecleaning; clean rugs and carpets; clean and repair furniture; varnish or oil floors; do patch painting; mend leaky roofs; repair household machinery; wash walls and ceilings, and do hauling.

The head of the company is a man who, with two other companions and

KENNEL CLUB MAKING PLANS FOR NEW SHOW

Members of the Northeastern Wisconsin Kennel club of Green Bay have started plans for the next bench show which will be held late in the winter in order to get a more favorable position in the chain of cities making up the "big circuit." The club recently was host to the first licensed dog show in Green Bay. Fanciers from Appleton and other valley cities had entries.

The charter of the club remains open and dog owners throughout eastern Wisconsin have been invited to join with the small group which already accomplished much in the conspicuous success of the first licensed show. Several local men plan to join.

Mendations were made at this school by Chief McGilgan.

The survey was made at the request of Mayor A. C. Rule, who is compiling data regarding schools of the city.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK PROCLAIMED BY MAYOR

Mayor A. C. Rule Monday set aside Oct. 9-15 as Fire Prevention week and issued a proclamation requesting citizens to use care in reducing loss from fires to a minimum during that week.

The proclamation says: Whereas there has been a large annual loss of life and great property damage caused by fires and

Whereas this movement has for its objective the noble purpose of saving life and property from needless and wanton destruction

Therefore I, Albert C. Rule, mayor of Appleton, do hereby proclaim Oct. 9-15 as Fire Prevention week and

The PENNY PRINCESS

BEGIN HERE TODAY

VERA CAMERON permits herself to be transformed into a beauty by JERRY MACKLYN, her boss, advertising manager of Peach Bloom Cosmetics Co. Jerry falls in love with Vera, also called Vee-Vee and his love persists even when he learns she consents to the transformation only because the man who falls in love with her, SMYTHE SMYTHE, knows her.

Vera spends her vacation at Lake Minnetonka because Smythe is there. Smythe and other guests mistake her for VIVIAN CRANDALL, ex-princess who after a Paris divorce, is in hiding. Vera emphatically proclaims her true identity but is not believed.

The Crandalls learn from hotel guests returning to the city of their supposed daughter's whereabouts. Vera gets word while she and Smythe are on the pier late at night that she is wanted at the hotel. She and Smythe flee in a stolen car. Smythe confesses his love and says they must be married at once. Believing he loves her for herself alone, Vera tells him the truth, substantiating her identity with Jerry's letter. Smythe is furious, revealing himself as a fortune-hunter. However, he returns when it occurs to him this girl may really be the princess, who is trying to outsmart another man.

Two masked men stop them and Vera is taken with them in an airplane to a shack in the mountains. PRINCE IVAN, Vivia's ex-husband, awaits her there. Vera and the prince are horrified when the men immediately announce they will hold them for a ransom from the Crandalls. Vera convinces the prince, who is furious at the discovery Vera is not his wife, that they must play the part of a king and queen, and that if he finds her unable to draw a ransom, will murder them.

Meantime Jerry Macklyn in New York reads of what has happened at the Minnetonka. At the office, Jerry is stunned when a stenographer, ROSEMARY FITCH, tells him she saw Vera that morning in a subway jam, her old plain self again, wearing spectacles. She tells him she is her one of the advertising models in which Vera's picture appears. Jerry gets a phone call and a request to come immediately to an address in the Bronx. Jerry surmises it is VIVIAN CRANDALL herself who is summoning him and he hurries away.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXXVII

For an instant after the door was opened to him, Jerry Macklyn felt an absurd conviction that he was gazing upon Vera, Victoria Cameron, as she had been before he had conceived his disastrous scheme of transforming her into a beauty. But it was for an instant only. For the woman who was searching his face unsmilingly was neither like the old Vera nor the new, and yet strangely reminiscent of both of them. Her hair, a dark, gleaming coppery red, was parted in the middle and brushed smoothly toward the ears, where twin braids were coiled like small wheels and pinned close to the head. Her complexion was flawless in its even pallor, unrelieved by rouge, but like the old Vee-Vee's, her eyes were disguised behind large, horn-rimmed spectacles with amber-tinted lenses.

"How do you do, Miss Craig?" he said. He was careful to leave the initiative to her. "The name on your card is 'Craig' and that was what he would call her until she chose to give him permission to address her by her real name.

"Come in, Mr. Macklyn," she directed him gravely.

"I rent the place furnished," she explained negligently, in her low, impersonal, but musical voice. A voice not unlike Vee-Vee's, he decided, except for its faint flavor of blended Continental accents.

"Mr. Macklyn, do you know who I sent for you?" she asked abruptly.

"I believe I do," Jerry smiled at her. He could not feel it at ease with her. She seemed too much like the girl he loved to be a stranger to him. "You are Vivian Crandall, of course. I had been expecting word from you all day, ever since my secretary told me this morning that she had seen Miss Cameron in the subway. I knew of course that she had not seen another man."

"Ah," Vivian Crandall raised the enchanting eyebrows which Jerry had used as a model for the new Vee-Vee's brows. "You are disarmingly frank, Mr. Macklyn. I suppose I may as well remove these horrid glasses? I am really not myself at all with them on," and she lifted them from her nose and dropped them to the couch beside her. "So I am really like this mysterious double of mine, this girl who has been so unfortunate as to be kidnapped while she was playing the adventures?" Vivian Crandall drawled.

"She is not an adventuress, she has not posed as Vivian Crandall, and she is in danger of her life through no fault of her own," Jerry leaned forward and frowned.

"I suppose it is an accident also that she has a haircut exactly like the one I wore home from Paris, the one I have worn in all my recent photographs and in the portrait that was painted in Paris this spring?"

"No, it was not an accident," Jerry answered honestly, his face flushing darkly. "If you'll be patient with me, I can explain the whole situation in a few words—account for that booklet that Miss Fitch gave you on the subway this morning."

Vivian Crandall drew the booklet from beneath a soft cushion and sat regarding the photographs of her double with broodingly intent eyes while Jerry made his straightforward explanation, taking all the blame upon himself and absolving Vee-Vee so carefully that when he had finished his audience lifted her lovely head and smiled deeply into his eyes.

"You're very much in love with her, aren't you, Jerry Macklyn? Lucky girl!"

"I am," he answered honestly. "And I don't mind telling you that I'd rather lock you in this apartment and keep you prisoner than to let you endanger her life by informing the police and the press that you are safe and that the kidnapped girl is an impostor."

"I don't blame you," she smiled, and a faraway look came into her eyes. "I know what it means to love like that. Do you think that if I had meant to go to the police I would have sent for you? You have not asked me why I am here, or why my parents have been so foolish as to put detectives on my trail, dragging your poor little sweetheart into the net that they set for me."

"No," Jerry shook his head. "And I won't ask you. I have no right. I am sure that your reasons are good ones, or they would not be yours."

"You are a very gallant gentleman, Jerry Macklyn," Vivian Crandall smiled at him.

"You'll remain hidden then, and let your parents pay ransom for the wrong girl if the kidnappers demand ransom, as they undoubtedly will?" Jerry demanded.

"More than that," Vivian Crandall answered firmly. "I shall try to help you find her, and to protect her from the consequences of her only sin—that of looking like me. She really looks like me—a great deal like me, I mean," she asked, a note of anxiety in her voice.

"If your hair was cut like hers, like yours was when that portrait of you was made, you'd pass for (twins)," Jerry assured her.

"Excuse me a moment," Vivian smiled and left the room.

He was writhed again with anxiety for the girl he adored, and who was even then undergoing only God knows what tortures at the hands of beasts to whom the word money was unknown. Then he looked up at the sound of a light footstep and thought that he was gazing at the very girl for whom his heart was constricted with agony.

The coiled braids of copper-colored hair which had covered Vivian Crandall's aristocratic ears were gone. Her short hair, brushed back from her broad, white brow, showed across her small head in the fashion which had not long ago started Paris into an ecstasy of admiration.

"Judas! Just!" Jerry breathed.

"I suppose that settles it," Vivian Crandall smiled at him. "We will concede the resemblance without further argument. Those braids, saved from my first job—and what a funny job, long bob it was—have been very useful in transforming the Princess Vivian into a demure little working girl. But I think the tinted spectacles have been even more useful. Now, Jerry Macklyn, let's get down to business. You want to rescue your lady fair in true knightly fashion, don't you?" she teased him.

"The knightier the better," Jerry grinned. "Even if she is engaged to that sleek-haired young society snail. The papers say that they were eloping to be married when Vee-Vee was kidnapped," he added dismally.

"I wouldn't take that too seriously," Vivian Crandall comforted him, her voice a little crisp with scorn. "Remember that this Schuyler Smythe, the person, whoever he may be, thought he was eloping with Vivian Crandall, not with Vera Cameron. If your Vee-Vee is the girl you think she is, I'm pretty sure she would have told him the truth before they applied for a marriage license, and my experience with fortune-hunters convinces me that the dashing young man would have scuttled away like a frightened rabbit. But that is not important now. We can deal with Mr. Smythe later. We can check her perfect little teeth viciously. I suppose you noticed in the newspapers accounts of my kidnapping that my former husband, the prince, is also missing from his hotel and has not been seen since Tuesday. Did it occur to you to connect the two disappearances?"

Jerry clenched his big hands so tightly that the knuckles cracked, but he did not dare urge her to hurry.

"I think I could find the place," she said, her mouth twisting with a grimace of remembered pain and distaste.

She paused again, her eyes brooding. "What made me remember the incident was that Ivan remarked then that it was an ideal place for an abduction. He laughed as he told me that if I ever left him he'd kidnap me and hold me there until I came to my senses."

"Could you tell me how to get there?" Jerry demanded, his breath coming in quick gasps.

"No, but I might be able to show

BEGIN PREPARATIONS FOR FARM FESTIVAL

Plans for the annual fall farm festival and good fellowship dinner, given by the chamber of commerce, for Outagamie county farmers, will be started at a meeting of the rural affairs committee of the chamber at 230 Friday afternoon at the chamber office. Other matters of routine business will complete the meeting.

Erect Flag Pole

Workmen will begin erecting the new 51 foot flag pole on the grounds of the Masonic lodge within the next few days. The pole was constructed at the Northern Boiler and Iron Works.

FALLS; BREAKS RIB

F. Wood, 119 W. Harris-st., broke a rib when he fell against a post of a sidewalk at his home Monday evening. He was taken to St. Elizabeth hospital.

AD CLUB WORKS ON COURSE IN INDUSTRIAL ADVERTISING

Plans for an extensive course in industrial advertising the coming months is being mapped out by officers of the Advertising club of Appleton. The first speaker in the course will be Charles Younggren of the advertising agency of Klan-Van Peterson-Dunlap-Younggren of Milwaukee. He will talk at the meeting scheduled for 6:15 Wednesday evening, Oct. 12 at Hotel Northern.

Mr. Younggren is well known in the advertising world as he was one of the candidates for the office of president of the International Advertising Clubs at the last meeting at Milwaukee. He is now president of the sixth district of the organization.

The firm with which Mr. Younggren is connected is the largest advertising agency in the state and handles several of the largest industrial accounts in the middle west. Plans of officers of the local club are to have Mr. Younggren bring with him several other Milwaukeeans who are interested in industrial advertising to speak before the Appleton club.

LAWRENCE LIBRARIANS ATTEND STATE MEETING

Members of the staff of Lawrence college library will attend the Wisconsin Library association at Green Bay, Wednesday, Miss Anna M. Tarr, librarian, Miss Dorothy Fenton, reference librarian, and Miss Ada May Young, cataloger, will spend the entire day at the convention.

No More Gas In Stomach and Bowels

Gasoline Low Priced

"Despite that domestic consumption has multiplied by more than nine since 1913, gasoline makes a strong claim to be, by comparison with the general price level, our cheapest commodity of general and extended use."

"Taking 100 as the 1913 index figure for commodity prices, the 1926 index figure was 151, according to the U. S. Department of Labor statistics. That is, there has been an average advance of 51 per cent. Various groups, however, have been variously affected."

"... Then the ratio of increase tapers off, until at the bottom we find gasoline, its index figure 118.1."

"That is, while the index figure of all commodities advanced 51 points, and while some important groups advanced over 100, gasoline gained only 18 points."

THE paragraphs quoted are from an article by Judson C. Welliver appearing in the August issue of the American Review of Reviews.

This unique record of the petroleum industry stands as a tribute to science and efficiency.

In making gasoline the least expensive of commodities, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has done its share. Improved methods and processes have been developed in its scientific laboratories. Waste has been eliminated and efficiency promoted by its constant search for improvements.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) exists to serve the people of the Middle West and it has never wavered from that purpose. This faithfulness to an abiding ideal has earned for it the confidence of those whom it serves.

Every day gasoline of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) fuels millions of cars. The motorist is confident that the gasoline which flows into his tank from a Standard Oil Company (Indiana) pump will "deliver the goods" because it always is uniform in quality.

He has learned to trust the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) for he has found its name a guarantee of quality. He knows that every gallon of gasoline it sells must carry on its reputation for integrity.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has helped to make gasoline not only one of the lowest priced commodities, as Mr. Welliver has shown it to be, but one of the most dependable as well.

Dependability is important, for gasoline—unlike most commodities—is mysterious to the average man, revealing little by its appearance.

No one can tell how it will work in a car by looking at it. But everyone knows how it will work in a car if it is the product of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana). The interest and responsibility of this Company does not stop with the sale of the gasoline.

It is a part of the service of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) to provide the people of the Middle West with gasoline whose performance they can depend upon—at the lowest possible price.

DR. J. J. LAIRD IS ELECTED CHAIRMAN OF SCHOOL GROUP

A. L. Drier Named Head of Shiocton Committee Preparing for Festival

Dr. J. J. Laird was elected general chairman of the Black Creek community school festival at a meeting in that village Monday evening. A. L. Drier was selected as chairman of the Shiocton festival at the meeting in that village. A. G. Meating, county superintendent of schools and R. A. Amundson, county agricultural agent, conducted the meeting at Black Creek and Miss Nellie McDermott, rural school supervisor, conducted the meeting at Shiocton.

On Tuesday night organization meetings will be held at Dale, Nichols and Center and on Wednesday night meetings will be held at Hortonville and Bear Creek.

Each of the seven villages has been chosen as the central point of its district and the harvest festival at each place will be participated in by all the rural schools in that district.

The purpose of the festivals is to encourage the pupils in school work and farm business, stimulate interest on the part of the parents in the school work, and create a bond of interest between teachers, parents and community.

Each school, in cooperation with its parent-teacher association and the school district board will stage the exhibit of school work and farm products selected by the children. Prizes will be awarded winning displays.

Potatoes, cabbage, carrots, table beets, pumpkins, squash, corn, apples, rutabagas, flowers, honey, or any other farm product may be displayed. The school exhibits will include maps of historical or geographical subjects; charts on correct posture, value of fresh air, correct weight or exercises for growing children; posters on fire prevention, safety on highways or school grounds and on school functions; penmanship work; art work; and graphs.

There were 25 people present at the Black Creek organization meeting and Nov. 11 was chosen as the date for the festival at that village. Other committees to arrange for the festival are as follows: exhibits, Rudolph Gebrie, chairman, Mrs. George Peters and Charles Henning; arrangements, Henry Brandt, chairman, George Smith and Mrs. Stephen; finance, Mr. Amundson, chairman, Miss Margaret Holtz and Clyde Burdick; Miss Mildred Thoms, principal of the Black Creek school, will arrange the entertainment.

Miss Arline Puls was selected as chairman of the entertainment committee at the Shiocton meeting.

It is planned to have the schools of each district present an entertainment of some kind, the evening of the festival and the money raised will be used to defray the expenses of the affair.

Other committees for the Shiocton festival were not selected Monday night but will be appointed at another meeting to be held this week. The date of the Shiocton event also will be selected at this meeting.

RHINELANDER GIRL STARS IN FOLLIES

Former Lawrence Co-ed Member of Ingenues Band, Featured on Broadway

A former Lawrence college co-ed, Miss Lucy Westgate of Rhinelander, is now starring in the Ziegfeld Follies, 1927 edition. Miss Westgate is one of The Ingenues, a girls' orchestra featured in the Follies. Each member of the orchestra plays six instruments.

Miss Westgate travelled with chauntiquas for some time. Later she played on Broadway in Loew's State theatre. Then she joined the "Ingenues," traveling over the Orpheum circuit, playing in the largest cities of the United States and Canada. It was at the Palace theatre appearance in New York last June that Mr. Ziegfeld heard the orchestra. He was so pleased with the act that he purchased the orchestra from Mr. Sherman, owner of the company.

The new show practiced and rehearsed under the personal supervision of Irving Berlin and had its premiere on Aug. 1, at Boston. After a two week's run the show returned to New York for the opening of the twenty-first birthday of the Follies at the New Amsterdam theatre.

A New York Critic who reviewed the performance said, "Two groups of females, however, are the real stars—the Rasch dancers and the Ingenues musicians. The Ingenues, a band composed of a large bevy of pretty girls, played its way into fame the first night."

NURSE REPORTS NO CONTAGIOUS DISEASE

Not a single case of contagious disease was reported to Miss Mary Kline, county nurse, during the past few weeks. There is little or no sickness among the rural school children, Miss Kline said, and the general health condition of all people in the county is excellent for this time of the year, she said.

CITY FIRE HAZARDS ARE CUT TO MINIMUM

Schools and Factories Work With Department in Drilling Pupils, Workers

Schools and factories of Appleton are working hand in hand with the fire department in reducing fire hazards to a minimum, according to Chief George P. McGillan.

Several fire drills have been held since the beginning of the school year and when Mayor Biele and Chief McGillan timed the pupils in unexpected fire drills Tuesday, all of the schools made very good records. Pupils in schools of wood joist and wood floor construction made the best records in the fire drills.

Chief McGillan visited all the schools of the city last week and instructed teachers and pupils on how to conduct fire drills and how to report fires to the department. The school alarms are not connected with the city alarms and Chief McGillan gave instructions that the person that rang the school alarm also should turn in the alarm to the fire department.

Factory workers have been organized and made excellent time in their drills, the chief said.

COLLEGE PROFESSORS TO SPEAK AT OSKOSH

Members of Lawrence college faculty will speak at meetings of several teachers associations Friday.

President H. M. Wriston will speak before the Northern Teachers association at Ashland. His subject will be "The Broad Minded Teacher."

Among the speakers at the Northwestern Teachers association at Oshkosh are Miss Anna M. Tarr, librarian of Lawrence college library who will talk on Possibilities of Good Book Week; Dr. L. A. Youtz of the chemistry department who will speak on Improvement of High School Chemistry Tests; Prof. R. E. Thiel of the education department who will present Legal Aspects of Public School Instruction; Coach A. C. Denney on The Football Game in High School and in College.

The Pullinwider Stringed Quartet will be the big feature of the musical program.

CALUMET COUNTY KAUKAUNA-LITTLE CHUTE-KIMBERLY NEARBY TOWNS

KAUKAUNA COUNCIL TESTS NECESSITY OF PAYING BANKS Alderman Cooper Will Confer With Attorney General in Regard to Refunds

Kaukauna—Alderman W. C. Cooper president of the city council and chairman of the finance committee, was selected by the council at its meeting Tuesday evening as the representative of the city to go to Madison within the next week to confer with the attorney-general of the state relative to the back taxes due the bank. Several aldermen advanced the opinion that it was not necessary for the city to pay the banks the money which they claim is due them under the new bank law. The attorney-general's opinion in the matter probably will be accepted as final.

Joseph Lefevre, city attorney, told the council that an agreement had been reached between the H. T. Runte company and G. F. Fargo, whereby the latter will have access to the new bank law. The attorney-general's opinion in the matter probably will be accepted as final.

A motion was passed by the council authorizing the city clerk to pay the balances due the Warden-Allen company of Milwaukee, builders of the Wisconsin avenue bridge and the firm of Harrington, Howard and Ash, engineers for the bridge. The amount due the former was $2,205.36 while there a charge of $100 from the latter for engineering services.

The old barn in back of the Legion building on the island will not be torn down as was originally planned but will be made into a tool shed following action taken at the council meeting. Some time ago the council voted to grant the Legion permission to tear down the building which the aldermen thought was of no use at that time but Tuesday evening the council voted to reconsider its action in view of the fact that the city has hardly any place to keep its tools at present.

Repairs are to be made on the tower on the top of the Legion building. It was reported that the tower was built 42 years ago and was in bad condition at the present time. The turrets under the bell which have rotted away must be replaced.

WILL PAVE STREETS The final report of the board of public works on the paving of seven south side streets was adopted by the council. Mayor W. C. Sullivan signed the paving contracts at the end of the meeting and construction work is to start at once. The water department has been instructed to put in water taps on the streets to be paved. Mayor Sullivan reported that the Chicago and Northwestern railroad had requested permission to take down the gates on the Main-ave crossing and use only the flagman. No action was taken on this matter as the council believed it was a matter to be decided by the Wisconsin railroad commission.

Frank Charlesworth, Jr., city engineer, reported that the plan of sewers for the south side would not be affected by the proposed paving. The council adjourned until Oct. 17.

EXTEND MAIN-AVE ON SOUTH SIDE, KAUKAUNA Kaukauna—Main-ave will be extended from its present termination on Tenth-st through the ravine between Tenth-st and Twelfth-st and will connect up with a number of streets in Tanner's Addition. At present there is only one street connecting the addition with the main part of the south side and as state trunk highway 55, which is routed over this street is to be paved in the near future it will be necessary to have another street to the south side road department believed it best to start building the road immediately. All of the dirt excavated from the streets which are to be paved on the south side will be placed on this road.

MARRIES WIDOW OF HIS BROTHER AT JUNCTION Special to Post-Crescent Forest Junction—Mrs. Adela Luckow and Hans Luckow were married Wednesday at the home of the bride. The Rev. H. A. Franke, pastor of Zion Evangelical church performed the ceremony. Attendees were Miss Edna Knapp and Elmer Loefer. Mr. and Mrs. Luckow left on a week's wedding trip to Milwaukee and Madison. Mrs. Luckow's first husband, Emil Luckow, a brother of the bridegroom, died about two years ago. Some time ago Mr. Luckow had made for him with her father, and was employed at a local store.

INCREASE IS SHOWN IN SCHOOL DEPOSITS

Kaukauna—An increase of five per cent was shown in the number of students at Kaukauna High school who deposited money in the school bank on Tuesday, Oct. 4, over the number of a week previous. Three hundred and seventeen students of $5 per cent and the total enrollment banked. The week before a per cent of them deposited money.

The freshmen class led again this week with 87 per cent of the members of the class banking. This, however, was a fall of three per cent for the class, as the week previous the first year class banked 100 per cent. The seniors and sophomores were tied with 96 per cent each while only 59 per cent of the juniors were thrifty this week.

Social Items Kaukauna — Group No. 11 of the Ladies of St. Mary Catholic church will entertain at a card party in the church hall at 8 o'clock Thursday evening, Oct. 6. Bridge, schafkopf, five-hundred and hearts will be played and prizes will be awarded for each.

About 70 people attended the card party and dance given by the Young People's society of Holy Cross Catholic church at Eagle's hall on Tuesday evening. The early part of the evening was spent in playing cards.

The Ladies of Holy Cross Catholic church will entertain at a card party in the church hall on Thursday evening. Prizes will be awarded the winners in schafkopf bridge and five hundred.

Kaukauna—Delegates to the state convention of Eastern Star from Kaukauna are Mrs. H. G. Brauer, Mrs. Joseph Krahn and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Deibridge. The convention is meeting in Milwaukee on Oct. 4, 5 and 6.

Plans are being made by the local chapter of Eastern Star for a 6 o'clock dinner and initiation to be held in the Masonic hall on Friday evening, Oct. 14.

CREW IS UNLOADING MATERIAL FOR PLANT Kaukauna—A crew of about 50 men is busy unloading equipment for the erection of the new power plant to be built by the Green Bay and Mississippi Canal company just west of the present plant at Kaukauna. Several sheds to be used as offices, tool houses and warehouses have been erected on the site.

A steam shovel is busy cleaning out the dirt and stones from the site of the old Brookway Sulphate mill. The dirt is being hauled to the ravine in back of high school building, which is to be made into an athletic field in the future. It is planned to haul about 1,000 yards of dirt to the field.

GERMANS ARRIVE AT FOREST JUNCTION Enemies During World War Will Make Home in America —May Live in Appleton

Special to Post-Crescent Forest Junction—Although it might have been classed among the most ordinary happenings in those bygone days when the entrance of home-seeking foreigners into this community was the rule, rather than the exception, much friendly interest was aroused upon the recent arrival here of a family of German immigrants.

The family consists of the German Loefer, bearing the German name of the Hamburg-American steamship line, were looked upon with curiosity; and the coming of the people into the community became the subject of inquiry and conversation. Leaving their native land shortly after the middle of September, when heavy rains were working havoc with the grain harvest, the family landed in this country after a nine and one-half day voyage on the steamship "New York".

The new arrivals are Mr. and Mrs. William Emmel and daughter Johanna. They are natives of Wiesbaden, a city of over 100,000 inhabitants in Prussia, not far from Frankfurt-on-the-Main. Less than five years ago, two sons of the family came to America. One of them is employed in Neenah, the other as a civil engineer in Green Bay. The family is temporarily stopping here at the country residence of a cousin, Charles Emmel and contemplating residence in the city of Appleton, where the father will follow his occupation of cabinet maker. He is a veteran of the world war and saw extensive service with the German army on the Russian and Rumanian fronts.

WILL HOLD RALLY At the annual Sunday school rally at Zion Evangelical church on Sunday forenoon, E. N. Hummel, professor of general science at North Central college, Naperville, Ill., will be the special speaker. Following the regular session of the school, the principal morning service will be held at 10:30 at which, besides the address by the special speaker, Carl Schley, who represented the school at the annual Lomira assembly in August, will give his report of the gathering. Professor Hummel will speak again as a service at 7:30 in the evening.

A new ruling, filed with and approved by the railroad commission of Wisconsin, has been announced to subscribers by the directors of the Calumet Telephone company, operating locally and in the surrounding rural districts. The announcement demands the payment of rents and tolls at the company's office here within twenty days after submission of the order, which is a five-day written notice will bring about a discontinuance of service to the delinquent parties.

PRAEGER-SPARKS WEDDING The marriage of Olan Praeger to Miss Maud Sparks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sumner Sparks of Plainfield Portage-co, took place at the bride's home at 1:30 last Thursday afternoon, with the ceremony performed by the Rev. F. C. Rapsch of the Baptist church. The bridegroom's cousin of here, Miss Mabel Kasech and Raymond Laack of Porter attended the couple at the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Praeger have arrived here from Plainfield to reside at the home of the groom's parents. Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Praeger. The groom is a member of the Badger Motor Car Co. here.

CHEAPEST PAVEMENT IS BRICK A few facts every taxpayer should know Pavements are easily damaged unless the surface protects the base from the weather. Those not designed to give a slightly flexible surface are injured by natural expansion and contraction and the jolts of heavy traffic. Those not designed to resist heat-softening, rut and "shove" under traffic. Paving brick being vitrified is tough, dense, can't absorb water. Laid with sand cushion, over any good base, and bound with asphalt, brick surface has resilience "give," keeps itself from injury and protects the pavement base. And it is a surface water cannot penetrate; heat cannot soften; tire chains cannot injure. Neither traffic nor weather—nor both together—can destroy brick. Records from hundreds of cities and towns, prove it the cheapest of all pavement—yet the highest in value. "The A. B. C. of Good Paving," a taxpayer's manual, tells in words and pictures how engineers today build ever-lasting, low cost, brick surfaced roads and streets. ### TRUCK LINE SURVEY TAKEN IN WISCONSIN

Number of Existing Companies Far Exceeds Number of Licenses Issued

A survey of the bus and truck line industry in the state being made by the railroad commission in connection with the enforcement of the new transportation law is materially swelling the estimates of the number of these lines believed to have existed under the old law.

The old law required bus and freight lines to register with the commission with practically no restrictions on them. Under this law there were about 400 bus lines registered and but a few freight lines. Three inspectors in the employ of the railroad commission are now making a check of the state, of uncovering many transportation lines, that were not recorded before.

When the survey has been completed Wisconsin will have available the first complete data it ever had on the number of these automobile carriers. The check-up so far has revealed that the number of freight lines coming under the law far exceed the number of bus lines with the discovery that many have been operating without authorization under the old law that had also failed to comply with the new regulations. Many of these freight lines are but small affairs hauling goods from one town to another.

Inspectors are finding both bus and freight lines that are unlicensed and in many of these cases proprietors claimed they knew nothing of the new law.

New bus companies are active in an endeavor to win a license to operate under the new law. Starting Monday the railroad commission will hold hearings on about 50 applications for permits to operate new transportation lines. In some of these cases applications come from existing companies who want to add additional branches.

The old bus and freight lines that existed at the time of the passage of the new law were automatically given what amounts to franchises over the routes that they occupied. In the case of new companies coming under the law it is necessary for them to show that the service they plan is needed before they can win the right to operate. This tends to prevent growing competition over given routes.

LEVEL OF WINNEBAGO IS RISING STEADILY

Government Notifies Water Power Owners They Can Use Half of Normal Amount

Water users and water power owners in the Fox river valley received word this week from the offices of the United States engineering department at Milwaukee that they could use 50 per cent of the normal amount of water for power purposes until further notice. During the week they had been given permission to increase the use of water from 10 per cent to 25 per cent.

Following the three months drought which held the locality in its grip during the summer, the mills and water power interests were allotted only the use of 10 per cent of the normal amount of water. Some of the mills found that they had hardly enough water for regular process work and refrained from using water to generate power.

With the heavy rains lasting for eight days the water in Lake Winnebago rose several inches with the resultant announcement from the engineer's office at Milwaukee that the mills could use 25 per cent and the later announcement to increase the use of water to 50 per cent. The amount of water to be used by power owners in the valley is determined by the height of Lake Winnebago at the Menasha dam.

Y. M. C. A. OFFICERS TO ATTEND MEETING

Three Local Officials Will Leave Friday for Janesville Conference

Three employed officers of the Y. M. C. A.—George F. Werner, general secretary; John W. Pugh, boys' work secretary; and Forrest Muck, office secretary—will attend the annual state convention of the association Friday evening, Saturday and Sunday at Janesville. The men will leave Appleton by automobile Friday afternoon.

Judson G. Rosebus, vice president of the local association and a national association official, might attend. F. J. Harwood, president of the local association, was to speak on the program, but he will be unable to attend. He was to give a tribute to Frank Anderson, who served for 30 years as state secretary for Wisconsin.

The meeting really will open Friday noon with a meeting of interest group leaders. The opening session is for 7:30 Friday evening. Saturday's most important work is election of officers, consideration of the state budget and the convention banquet in the evening. At the banquet a report will be given on work of the state association since the last convention by Pres. H. F. Lindsay, and Dr. R. W. Barstow of Madison will give an address.

Sunday morning will include a church service and a Daddy Wones breakfast, in honor of W. H. Wones, state boys' work secretary. The closing session will be early in the afternoon and the adjournment will be at 2:30, allowing the delegates time to drive home by night. Discussion groups lead by Jay Ulrice and Dr. Bowers will be held at every session. Ladies have been invited to all meetings and to the breakfast.

The discussions include dormitory men, physical department and leaders' corps, students, Y's Mens' clubs, young mens' groups, Hi-Y clubs and group members, committee and board members, faculty group (college and university), town and country (community leaders), employed officers and group leaders.

HUNTERS ARE WARNED TO CARRY LICENSES

Officials Cautioned to Follow Prescribed Style in Issuing Permits

County clerks are cautioned against issuing hunting licenses without having the parties receiving the license swear to a regular application blank in a letter received by John E. Hantschel, county clerk, from Matt Patterson, chief clerk of the Wisconsin Conservation committee. Mr. Patterson said several convictions of men have occurred within a year after they were arrested of violating the state fish and game laws, and they produced hunting licenses, although they proved they did not swear to a regular application blank upon receiving the license.

Hunters who have been convicted of violating the game laws may not secure another license for a full year and if a license is issued to them without proper swearing, no action can be taken against the men for false swearing, the letter points out.

Mr. Patterson also calls the attention of the county clerk to the fact that none may hunt or trap on a license but must carry the required regulation license. Anyone found hunting or trapping without this license will be prosecuted, the letter warns.

STAGE And SCREEN

"ONE WOMAN TO ANOTHER"

Stunning gowns, always a feature of her pictures, are to be noted in plentiful quantities in Florence Vidor's new Paramount production "One Woman to Another," which comes to Fischers Appleton Theatre Thursday and Friday. In this comedy, Miss Vidor wears no less than thirty remarkable creations, all of her own design and all designated to appeal to the feminine folk in the audiences.

In fact, the entire picture will prove a magnet for American women. It is a love story and the action has to do with a romance that goes on the shoals for a time when a brother leaves two unruly children in a girl's custody. As a result of the appearance of these charges and a quarrel on the girl's home, the man takes an interest in another. Through strategy, she plots to regain his love by placing him in an embarrassing situation. But competitors arise, and her scheme is almost wrecked.

The combination of beautiful gowns and wardrobe, a good story and an excellent cast makes "One Woman to Another" one of those certain-to-be-successful screen plays.

Chief in the support of Miss Vidor in "One Woman to Another" are Theodore von Eltz, the leading man; Leoda Hopper, as a breezy society matron; Little Joyce Marie Coad and Jimmy Boudwin, the mischievous children and others of equal importance to film fans.

The Bannister Style Revue of the Novelty Boot Shop will also be shown Thursday and Friday.

Mrs. Nettie Huff Becomes
Bride of Fred J. Rogers
After 30-year Romance

Special To Post-Crescent
New London—A friendship which began thirty years ago culminated in a wedding here at 4:30 Wednesday afternoon when Mrs. Nettie Huff of this city, became the bride of Fred J. Rogers, Shawano, at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. E. J. Freilinger, 321 W. Beacon-ave. Mr. and Mrs. Freilinger acted as attendants, and the ceremony, which was read by the Rev. Virgil W. Hill of the First Methodist church of this city, took place in the living room of the Freilinger residence. Only immediate relatives and a few friends were present. Mrs. Thomas Lindsay, an intimate friend of the bride, played the wedding march.

Dinner for forty guests was served at the Elwood hotel immediately following the ceremony. Those of the wedding party were: Donald Rogers, Superior, Mr. and Mrs. Miles Meidam, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Meidam, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Meidam, Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Rogers, Mrs. Gertrude Holbel, Mrs. May Poole, Orlo and Harold Poole and Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Burton, Appleton, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Feathers, Wausau, Mrs. Katharine Rogers, Milwaukee, Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Poole, Mr. and Mrs. Vergil Poole, Hortonville, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Poole, Cambridge, Mr. and Mrs. Joel Poole, Leeman, Mr. and Mrs. Monice Manley, Shiocton, Rev. and Mrs. Bell, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Sackett, Mr. and Mrs. John Stocher, and Mrs. Thomas Lindsay, New London; Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Rogers and Mr. and Mrs. John Kodan, Nashville, Wis.

Following the dinner and an informal reception at the Freilinger home, Mrs. Rogers left for an extended trip to Minneapolis. They will also spend some time in northern Wisconsin and will be at home upon their return in Shawano.

Mrs. Rogers has for more than eight years been connected with the Jennings markets of New London. Mr. Rogers is established in Shawano where he owns and manages a florist shop and greenhouse.

CHILD INJURED IN AUTOMOBILE CRASH

3-year-old Girl Is Hurt
Through Window When Car
and Tractor Collide

Special To Post-Crescent
New London—In an accident which occurred on Tuesday morning when the car driven by her mother, Mrs. Louis Wainer, collided with a city tractor, little Marian Wainer, 3, was thrown through the open window of a coupe striking upon the pavement. Her cheek and nose were bruised and her lip cut slightly. She was taken at once to the Community hospital where an examination showed that no bones were broken.

The accident happened at the intersection of Beacon-ave and Mill-st. Arthur Gesse, son of Albert Gesse, city street commissioner, was driving the city road grader across Beacon-ave. Mrs. Wainer was hurrying to the Chicago and Northwestern station in an attempt to put her guests, Miss Elizabeth Wightman and J. P. Wightman, Evanston, on the southbound train which is due at the station at 9:15.

Mr. Gesse stated that he attempted to turn with the eastbound car. The coupe struck the grader a glancing blow instead of head on. The impact of the crash threw the child from her seat on the broad window ledge back of the driver. None of the other occupants was injured and no glass was broken in the car. The greatest damage done was to the grader which had a spring, front axle and a bearing broken and some of the shifting levers bent.

MISS BERNICE SWIFT TO TAKE MADISON POSITION

New London—Miss Bernice Swift, with her mother, Mrs. Myrtle Swift, will arrive here on Sunday from Madison. Miss Swift, formerly of this city, has recently taken a position in the faculty of the Wisconsin School of Music at Madison. The Swifts have just recently moved from Minneapolis where Miss Swift studied and taught at the City schools. During her stay in Minneapolis she attained great popularity as a contralto singer, having sung at many of the city churches and at a Minneapolis concert. She has been heard for both voice and piano.

In Madison she will teach voice and piano and will be soloist at the Lutheran Memorial cathedral. She is a graduate of the American Conservatory of Music, Chicago, and the Lawrence Conservatory, Appleton. She is also a student in voice of Miss Louella May, Mrs. Caroline Falk, Mrs. Swift's mother, who is a well-known voice teacher in this city for the last twenty years. She will make her home with them at Madison.

ROHAN FUNERAL WILL BE HELD AT LEBANON CHURCH

Special To Post-Crescent
New London—Funeral services for Mrs. George Rohan, 67, who died at a local hospital, will be held at 10 o'clock Thursday morning from St. Patrick's church at Le. Only the Rev. August Breckman, Mr. Bill and the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. James Rohan, was born Feb. 16, 1867. She was married in November 1922. Her husband was killed by a train at Madison.

BEGIN GRADING OF STREETS IN CITY

Northern End of Oshkosh-st
to Be Filled in With Extra Material

Special To Post-Crescent
New London—Work of grading and filling on Warren and Oshkosh-sts was started Wednesday morning. The material which is to be taken from grading Warren-st will be used in filling the northern end of Oshkosh-st, which is badly in need of repair, according to Albert Gesse, street commissioner for New London. The end of West Spring-st at its intersection with Oshkosh-st has become badly pitted and from this point on to the Northport road will be widened and leveled with filling. Gravel will probably be used after the filling is put in place.

Considerable work is being done on the streets of the city, which, since the rains of the past week are in need of grading and leveling. Mr. Gesse states that this work will be continued throughout the fall in order that all roads may be kept in good condition.

NEW LONDON WOMAN TO START GYMNASIUM CLASS

New London—A class in corrective gymnastics has been organized among the social women of this city. Regular gymnastics work will be under the direction of Mrs. Edith Wilson, well known in this city for her work as a teaching of dancing. Mrs. Wilson will begin her classes on Oct. 18. The Catholic parish hall has been taken for the weekly meetings, and the class will begin with about eighteen women. The exercises, which will be done to music include routine gymnastics with enough of dance rhythm to make the work interesting. A special class of small children also will be given lessons in dancing. Mrs. Wilson declared.

LEGIONNAIRE TO PUBLISH
CITY HISTORICAL SKETCH

Special To Post-Crescent
New London—A county edition of the Badger Legionnaire in which both Waupaca and New London will be given full page space is to be issued soon, according to Commander E. G. Brown, of the local Norse-Spencer post. Mr. Brown states that this has become a custom of the Legionnaire throughout the state, various localities being given special space which is devoted to country history, history of legion affairs and other interesting matter. It is probable that the New London post will devote its space to historical matters and subjects most interesting to the legion and auxiliary work in this city.

Legionnaires of the local post are to be present at a county council meeting on Thursday evening at the John Hantschel cottage at Lake Wunneba. Members of the post will leave this city so as to attend the informal supper which is to be served at about 7 o'clock, and which will be followed by business discussions.

SHERIFF AND DRY
AGENTS CONDUCT
SERIES OF RAIDS

Several Arrests Made in Waupaca - co — Suspects
Must Face Court

Special To Post-Crescent
Waupaca—Sheriff Hanson and Undersheriff Millard, accompanied by State Prohibition Officers Sullivan and Fuller, raided several places Friday. At the farm home of Charles Rodies, near Big Falls, they found five gallons of alleged moonshine secreted in a straw stack. Clarence Rodies, son of Charles Rodies, acknowledged ownership of the liquor and was brought to Waupaca where he appeared before Justice Scott. He will appear before Justice Parks during circuit court session.

The farm of Rainhart Rodies, in the same community, was searched and a barrel of mash found. Rodies was arrested and brought before Justice Scott, where entered a plea of not guilty and was bound over for trial at circuit court.

The officers also raided the farm of Henry Split in the town of Union, where they found a large quantity of alleged home brew and beer being manufactured. Split was to appear before Justice Cleaves of Jola.

In the city of Clintonville the officers searched the house of Judd Bouche, where they found a quantity of alleged beer being manufactured. Bouche was arrested and was to appear before Justice Bessardick of Clintonville.

Mrs. Earl Lytle of Oshkosh who was injured in an automobile accident near Fond du Lac two weeks ago, was brought to Waupaca Sunday, and then taken to her home at Oshkosh.

Mrs. Lytle had both hips fractured and the pelvis bone broken. Her body is in a cast, and will have to remain that way for at least six weeks longer.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Penney drove to Stevens Point Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Leola Christensen of Saville were Sunday guests at the Frank Christensen home.

Mr. F. E. Darling and Mrs. Olive Stratton and daughter, Marion, drove to Madison Sunday. They were joined at Ripon by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Penney, who returned to Waupaca with them and spent Monday at the F. E. Darling and Frank Penney homes.

Mrs. Helen Amundson and Miss Merjorie Amundson spent Friday at Stevens Bay, where they attended the Northeastern sectional conference of supervising teachers.

The Rev. F. C. Richardson gave a talk on beer at the high school assembly room Friday. The Rev. Mr. Richardson has devoted a great deal of study to this subject and gave many interesting facts on the homes of the bees, their habits and the members of the bee family.

Clayton Rasmussen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Rasmussen, entertained at Saturday afternoon in honor of her tenth birthday. The guests were entertained at a matinee at the Palace theatre after which they were served refreshments at the Third ward grocery store. The guests were: Helen Louise Indested, Ronald Erickson, Mary June Bradt, Evelyn Erickson, Herbert Glessen, Hazel Barton, Gail Erickson.

GIVE SURPRISE PARTY AT CLINTONVILLE DWELLING

Special To Post-Crescent
Clintonville—The Clintonville Woman's club surprised Mrs. C. E. Stanley Monday evening on her birthday. The evening was spent playing various games. Mrs. Stanley also received a leather purse, a gift from the club.

Conrad Koeller, route 3, removed a row of about ten large spreading black walnut trees from his farm, leaving only seven or eight still standing. Those trees grew up from seed planted by Ferdinand Koeller, father of the incumbent, more than 40 years ago. Each alternate year they bore a big crop of nuts, but as the owners themselves had never tried to find a market for the crop, several of the neighbors were invited to come in and either as many as they pleased with so few trees remaining, the crop will be limited this year. Mr. Koeller said that the trees, which were growing in a row between his orchard and an adjoining field, cast so much shade over the field that he had to cut them down. Nut trees are rare in this vicinity, although they grow and produce as well as in other localities. The southern portion of Waupaca has several history nut groves, the largest being on the Stewart Sudby farm near Northport.

TO HOLD REUNION
A special reunion service will be held at the Bethlehem Lutheran church at Pella, in honor of the thirty-sixth anniversary of the installation of the Rev. Emil Stulen as pastor of that church which he still serves. It is the custom of the Rev. Stulen to be in the nature of a homecoming to the Pella church as the Rev. Stulen has married all those whom he has baptized, confirmed or married to be present, or to write a letter to be read on that occasion. The pastor has already received many letters from former members, now living in Waupaca, some from the south and some from the far west.

The Rev. Stulen was born in Germany and came to America in 1891. He was 15 years of age. He studied in the ministry at Springfield, Ill., and later at Concordia college in Milwaukee. In the early years he served several mission posts at Smithville, Regina and other localities in that section. He went from one church building to another on foot, always carrying a cross for which he found good use, on more than one occasion.

HOLD BURIAL RITES FOR RESIDENT OF HELVETIA

Special To Post-Crescent
Waupaca—Manz Peterson, 41, of Helvetia died Saturday. The funeral was held at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon from the Holly Undertaking parlors at Waupaca. The Rev. E. C. Richardson conducted the services. Burial was made in Lakeside cemetery. Mr. Peterson is survived by three brothers, Peter of Wausau; Hans of Big Falls, and Eric of Mellen.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Christensen and Mr. and Mrs. Olaf Skye motored to Appleton Sunday.

Miss Dorothy Clark, daughter of J. D. Clark of this city, who has been very ill, is reported as improving.

Mrs. Sam Peterson returned to her home in this city Saturday, after an extended visit in Chicago.

Mrs. Charles Cool and little daughter, Joyce of Anwa, spent the weekend with the Rev. and Mrs. F. C. Richardson.

Van Ooyen Plat--Sixth Ward--City of Appleton

The Trend of City Growth is Toward This Plat

While there have been a great many lots sold in the City of Appleton this year, bear in mind, that there is a vast difference between lots and lots. If you are familiar with the growth in this part of the city, then there is enough said.

If you haven't watched the growth in this locality ask someone who lives in this section and is familiar with it and you will find that lots have doubled in value in the past few years. And in the last year another big factor has arisen which undoubtedly will accelerate real estate development in this community, viz. St. Theresa church and school which is just about completed. The building of this church and school will, no doubt, prove to be a drawing card to this particular section of the city and therefore the community will continue to grow.

ADVANCE RESERVATIONS CAN BE MADE ANY TIME AFTER YOU RECEIVE THIS ADVERTISING MATTER

This plat was adopted by the city some time ago and this is the first time any lots in the plat have been offered to the public. You will notice by looking at the cut of the plat on this page that it is very conveniently located.

Two blocks from Roosevelt High School.
Three blocks from Franklin Grade School.
Five blocks from St. Theresa Church and School.

Erb Park just across the street from the west end of the plat. City sewer right up to both ends. City water mains within a block. All streets right up to the plat improved with gravel and cinder.

Coated Paper Co., Hayton Pump and Blower Works, Acme Body Works, Ideal Lumber and Coal Co., Graef Lumber Co., Baheall Iron and Metal Co., Fox River Marble and Granite Works, Tuttle Press, Eagle Mfg. Co., Wisconsin Wire Works, Appleton Wire Works, Fox River Tractor Co., Wisconsin Traction Co. Supply Yard, Appleton Broom Co.

All the above industries are located within easy walking distance of this plat.

Randall Street and Brewster Street are built up solid and Circle Street just south of this plat is already improved with city sewer and Water Street gravelled and partly built up with homes.

Can you imagine a better setting for the prospects of development? There are no restrictions other than the City Zoning Ordinance.

YOUTH'S OFFENSIVE CONSTITUTES GREAT CHALLENGE OF TIME

Students Have Been Taught to Think and Now Demand
Right to Act as They Please

Fond du Lac—(P)—Youth's "offense" is a challenge of progress, constituting an unprecedented opportunity and challenge. Norman E. Richardson, school religious education, Northwestern University, said today in an address before the state Congregational conference.

In teaching boys and girls prudential, moral or religious self control, he said, "materials and methods used a generation ago must now be laid aside. Young people respond negatively to them. They are discredited."

"Something has happened. The standards of authority have been shaken. Authority is no longer taken for granted. Youth to 'blow a fuse.' Freedom to make the wildest kind of experimentation is taken for granted."

"One of the reasons given for this 'fuse blowing' is 'wild experimentation.' Mr. Richardson said, is that the old time respect for law has been supplanted by an inquiry into its validity."

Further defense of youth lies in the fact that "parents often lack the educational insight," he continued. "They do not change their methods of government or instruction as their children advance in years. Methods of parental control that are suitable when a child is seven years old become sheer nagging if employed with a 17-year-old."

"Why is it that these other boys and girls demand a higher degree of self-determination than their parents? Why are they sensitive to any curtailment of what they consider their liberties or rights?"

"First, under methods of study used in our best public schools children are being taught how to think as well as how to memorize and believe. Second, the materials of instruction are carefully sifted so that they meet the tests of modern education. Boys and girls have a body of knowledge with which parents are always familiar. Third, contemporary thought is shifting from authoritative to an experimental basis. The facts of observation and experience rather than 'the wisdom of the ages' constitute points of departure on reasoning. Fourth, universal interests are being placed higher and higher in the scale of values. The Sabbath and all other traditions are being tested in the light of their value to man. Fifth, the new and inevitable synthesis of science and religion, of authoritative and experimental logic, of reverence and curiosity has not yet been effected."

"Leaders of the present generation are too busy and too much afraid to face the new social order in which only the scientifically trained and courageous youth can live comfortably."

COLORED SINGERS GIVE PROGRAM IN CHURCH HERE

The Piney Woods Institute quartet of colored singers from Braxton, Miss., will present a program of negro spirituals and plantation songs in the auditorium of First Congregational church at 7:30 Sunday evening, according to officers of the church. The singers will feature the program with songs from their repertoire of the past, and will also sing new songs. The quartet consists of four men and four women. They are all well known in their own community and are highly respected. The program is expected to be a most interesting and profitable one.

SOLONS INCREASED STATE INCOME TAX AT LAST SESSIONS

Where Residents Formerly
Paid Nothing, They Now
Will Bear Heavy Burden

Many married men in Appleton who have not paid a state income tax heretofore, will have to pay under the new law, according to estimates made by Leo J. Toonen, county treasurer of incomes.

The effect of the new law will vary according to the number of children. For married men without children the maximum limit of salary on which no income tax must be paid is $1,600 under both laws. On all salaries above $1,600 for a married man who is childless the new law increases the income tax.

Such a person with a net income of $1,600 would under the old law deduct $1,600 and pay 1 per cent tax on $50, which is 50 cents. Under the new law he would pay 1 per cent tax on $1,000 and 1 1/2 per cent on $600, or $15.12. From this he would make the deduction of $17.50 provided in the new law, making a tax of 62 cents, an increase of 12 cents. With higher salaries the increase continues to grow.

SAME GRADUATED RATE

The married man without children who received $2,000 a year would under the old law deduct $1,600 and pay tax on $3,400. This tax at the rate of 1 per cent on the first $1,600 and an increase of 1 1/2 per cent on each successive $1,000 would be $44.50. Under the new law he would pay the same graduated rate on the entire $3,400. The tax would be $75. From which he would be entitled to deduct $17.50, leaving a tax of $57.50 or $13 more than he would have paid under the old law.

In the case of a married man with three children an income of $2,500 is exactly wiped out by the deductions under the old law of $1,600 and $2,000 for each minor child. Under the new law the tax is figured on the entire $2,500 at the graduated rate, or $90. From this he is entitled to deduct $17.50 and $8 for each child, or $26.50, leaving a net tax of $56 under the new law, whereas he would have paid nothing under the old law.

FORMERLY PAID NOTHING

A man with the same salary and an income of $2,400 would be obliged to pay $2.50 under the old law although he paid nothing under the old law. The salary at which a man with three children will have to begin paying income tax under the new state law is at $2,200, where he will have to pay 50 cents. The same man with a salary of $2,500 would pay a tax of $1 under the old law and $5 under the new law, an increase of $4.

With different sized families the effect of the change from a deduction from net income under the old law to deduction from the tax under the new law changes, but as there are many persons whose salary is between $2,000 and $2,500 there will be many who escaped the income tax under the old law who will have to pay small amounts under the new law.

Every individual who paid under the old law will have to pay more under the new law. This is because the deduction from the tax is figured on the lowest rate, while the tax rate increases on each $1,000 of income. The deduction from income reduces the rate, while figuring the income on the entire income and then making the deduction from the tax makes the rate higher.

MAN WITH 3 CHILDREN

Take the case of a man with three children and an income of $3,000 a year. Under the old law he would be entitled to deduct $2,500, leaving a taxable income of $500 on which he

INQUIRY RECEIVED ON FREE DENTAL CLINIC

An inquiry concerning the free dental clinic for children, sponsored here by the Kiwanis club last year, has been received by club officers from the Ridgeway, Wis. Kiwanis club. The inquiry was the third received by local club from distant communities in the last few weeks, the other questionnaires coming from Alameda and Canada. The club had been sent to International Kiwanis headquarters in Chicago and they were referred to the local club because of the success of the clinic here.

Under the new law the tax would be $1,000, or $15; a total of $37.50. From this he would then deduct $17.50 and $8 for each child, $26.50 altogether, leaving his tax $11, compared with $5 under the old law.

For the same man with a salary of $3,500 the tax under the old law was $16, under the new law $19.75, an increase of $3.75; salary of $4,000, old law $16.25, new law $28.50, increase $12.25; salary of $4,500, old law $22.50, new law $38.50, increase $16; salary of $5,000, old law $30, new law $48.50, increase $18.50; salary of $6,000, old law $40.25, new law $78.50, increase $38.25; salary of $7,000, old law $65, new law $104.50, increase $39.50; salary of $8,000, old law $87.50, new law $148.50, increase $61.

The increase grows greater as the salary is higher because of the higher rate for each successive $1,000 in salary, finally reaching as high as 6 per cent, while the deductions from the tax are figured at the lowest rate. Only individual income tax payers are affected by the change in exemptions.

DR. W. D. MARSH TO RETIRE NEXT YEAR AS SUPERINTENDENT

Will Have Completed 45
Years Work as Pastor;
Formerly Lived Here

Dr. William D. Marsh, pastor of the First Methodist church here for seven years, will retire next year after six years as superintendent of the St. Lawrence district of the church, with headquarters in Potsdam, N. Y. When he retires Dr. Marsh will have completed his forty-fifth year as a pastor. He is well-known here for his community interest work while at the local church.

Dr. Marsh will retire to devote the rest of his life to the promotion of the League of Kindly Tongues, of which he is founder, at Syracuse, N. Y. The league was organized in Appleton in the First Methodist church as a merely church project in January, 1914 and soon became a national organization and it is growing larger yearly.

The league, for both young and old, is a method of inducing people to think their words and encourage kindly speech. Dr. Marsh said. Its motto is "to abstain from unkind speech and as often as possible to speak in the Spirit of Christ, to stranger, friend or kin, words of cheer, courage or counsel."

Miss Clara Church Marsh, a daughter, who graduated from Lawrence college, lives with her parents. Though he is 73, Dr. Marsh often preaches three times a day, holds quarterly conferences and travels daily a long distance by automobile.

CIVIC COUNCIL WILL MEET AT "Y" MONDAY

The next regular monthly meeting of the Civic council will be held at the Y. M. C. A. Monday evening, Oct. 16. A report of the committee which is planning the winter activities of the club will be heard and the persons working with the city council on an appropriation for summer work also will report.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Blackman of Lewiston, Idaho, returned to their home Tuesday after visiting for a month with relatives and friends in Appleton and Oshkosh. Mrs. Blackman was a sister of the late M. E. Lockery.

Prof. and Mrs. L. E. A. Kelso and family of Madison, were weekend guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Thiel, 734 E. North-st.

He is in charge of 88 churches, and attends 49 local conferences twice each year. In referring to his retirement, Dr. Marsh stated that the six year limit for superintendents will retire him next April and he faces the alternative of seeking another pastorate or retiring. His League is known in every one of the 48 states and several foreign countries.

SCHOLARSHIP GRADE BOOSTED AT MADISON

Fraternity Members Rank Far
Above Non-Fraternity Men;
Girls Far Ahead

Madison—(AP)—Fraternity men averaged better students than non-fraternity individuals and the average student of the state university here boosted his scholarship grade from about 78 to 80 during the second semester of last term. These figures were compiled by the dean of Men, S. H. Goodnight.

The increase shown in "grade points" is from 1.255 to 1.422. Fraternity men made a grade-point score of 1.319 compared with 1.303 for the non-fraternity men. During the first semester, fraternity men earned

1.164 grade-points per credit, each, while fraternity men made 1.153. The women students beat the men by an average of 1.615 to 1.313, and bettered their own fall term record of 1.467. Those women who belong to sororities improved their grade of 1.515 to 1.658 and beat the non-sorority women, who earned 1.576 grade as compared with their 1.413 record of the first semester.

The major colleges maintained the usual order—with the college of agriculture leading with 1.479, letters at science next with 1.467, engineering 1.347, and law school, .839. The gain in each college was roughly .150.
